Gerlington's Address
Washington's birthday wos celebrated in Atlanta yesterday by appropriate ceremonies. A band of music discoursed stirring music early in the day. At eleven o'clock an assemblage gathered in Deligies' Opera House to participate in the exercises. A number of gentlemen occupied the stage, which was tastefully prepared and curtained for the occasion.

The Reverend E. W Warren opened the exercises with a short but very feeling and appropriate prayer. Gen. Walker then arose and introduce I Gen. A. C. Garlington, the orator of the day, Gen.
